Union County Historic Property Evaluation Re-Survey

Union County has received a grant from the Tennessee Historical Commission to enable the re-survey of its structures fifty years old or older. The county was last surveyed in 1979, and there are many newer structures that have now become eligible to be included in this survey. More importantly, the county has lost many of its historic treasures. The survey will be conducted by teams of volunteers during the summer. Heading up the project is Union County Historian, Bonnie Peters, Secretary, Ellen Perry, Treasurer, Betty Bullen, Survey Team Members, Martha Carter, Lula Clevenger, Theo Coppock, Linda Coppock, Robert Ellison, Ollie Ellison, Leon Graves, Dennis Johnson, Darrell Malone, Walter McAfee and Wade Miller. Gail L. Guymon, M.A., Archivist/Architectural Historian/Educator, Archaeological Research Laboratory, The University of Tennessee will be coordinator of the survey. The teams will drive most, if not all, the roads in Union County and will be interested in any history you wish to share with them. All members of this project (with exception of Ms. Guymon) are also members of the Union County Historical Society. We thank our members for their work to help meet our mission of preservation of Union County History.

The Union County Historical Society wishes to “Thank” Rev. Brock for his very generous cash donation to the Union County Historical Society. He also, recently donated a number of artifacts to the museum.

The museum committee has completed this exhibit and Mr. Brock’s collection is now on display. Stop by the museum and see this new addition.

Message from the Library

Library Committee Chairperson, Darrell Malone is doing an excellent job of keeping the Library organized.

Recently, two books “Hinds Creek Primitive Baptist Church of Christ” and “Loy Later Big Valley Methodist Church” were added to our collection by Martha Carter. Thank you, Martha for the great work transcribing these publications.
